The usual Sunday services, under the suspices of the Young Men's Christian Association, will be held to morrow afternoon at 6 o'clock, on Battery Porter. We are glad to note the interest taken in these services. The circumstances under which they are held give them peculiar impressiveness. With the grand anorama spread around, the feelings are disposed to devotion, and the heart is ready to respond to the emotions which rise in view of the beautiful works of the Creator. Prayer seems to go up more direct to the Throne of Mercy, and songs of praise have a power that they seem to acquire because they echo back from the overspread canopy of Heaven.

Ob, Father, Mother, sister, too, And brothers, weep no more; She's only gone to beckon you To Cansan's blooming shore.

I don't believe while here I stay,
Dear Allie I'll forget,
For something kind she found to say
To every one she met. Lord, let thy never-failing grace
Support her friends bereft,
And with thy presence fill the place
Which she has vacant left.
